Attention Mr. Stacey K. Beebe

Gentlemen:

We note from a pamphlet published by your Association, offering a group plan of life insurance, that the plan is available to all employees of American citizenship outside the continental limits of the United States. Also that this insurance is available to all employees located in the U. S. in training for duty abroad, or all supervisory or administrative employees located in the U. S. who are required to make trips abroad, or directors of training programs for such employees.

We would like to call your attention to the fact that the number one eligibility clause in your pamphlet states all employees of American citizenship. However, the other categories of eligibility omit such a requirement although it may be implied that the employees who fall in Groups 2, 3 and 4 should also be citizens of the U. S. In order that we may have a clearer understanding of who is eligible for your group plan of insurance clarification on the subject of citizenship is hereby requested.

In the event your regulations prohibit this plan from being extended to citizens of countries other than the U. S. we would like to know if it is at all possible to have the eligibility extended to include these employees. If not under this plan, under a similar plan.

Very truly yours,
